Dan Tyminski was six years old when his parents began taking him to fiddle contests, square dances, and bluegrass festivals across New England. For a young musician who would later become one of the biggest names in modern-day bluegrass, those early experiences were life changing.

His voice famously accompanies George Clooney's performance of the Stanley Brothers' classic song, "I Am A Man of Constant Sorrow," in the film, Oh Brother, Where Art Thou? and his vocal collaboration with Swedish DJ Avicii on the song "Hey Brother" was a global smash, having been streamed more than a billion times to date.

His diverse solo projects and years of work with Alison Krauss and Union Station have yielded troves of award-winning music.

FIVE for FIGHTING WITH STRING QUARTET

SEPTEMBER 26TH
SPRUCE PEAK ARTS
STOWE, VERMONT

with
LACE AND LEE

The only way for a story to progress is to turn the page. John Ondrasik—the songwriter and performer known as the platinum-selling, Grammy-nominated, Five For Fighting—knows this well. In the two decades since his first major single, “Superman (It’s Not Easy),” hit the stratosphere, the artist has both evolved and come back ‘round full circle. Creativity, if nothing else, is paradoxical.

To date, Five For Fighting, has released six studio LPs, including the platinum certified America Town and The Battle for Everything; and the top-10 charting Two Lights, along with an EP and live albums.

Ondrasik has penned major hits, including the chart-topping “100 Years,” “The Riddle,” “Chances,” “World,” and “Easy Tonight,” which have earned over one billion streams and place him as a top-10 Hot Adult Contemporary artist for the 2000s. The reflective “100 Years” has joined “Superman (It’s Not Easy)” as part of the American Songbook and continues to stand the test of time at weddings, birthdays, graduations, memorials, and many a home video. Five For Fighting’s music has also been featured in more than 350 films.

2025 HOMEGROWN IN VERMONT — MUSIC FESTIVAL —

Saturday, June 5th Spruce Peak Village Green

The Annual Homegrown in Vermont Music Festival is easily one of our favorite events of the year at Spruce Peak Arts. And this past year, we have nothing to say but heartfelt thank you's for the way the community showed up for us and the local musicians we strive to uplift. Beginning at noon, we welcomed 10 bands and nearly 500 people throughout the beautiful summer day on the Spruce Peak Village Green.

This year we boasted a couple of exciting additions to the special day. Firstly, we partnered with six local artisans who displayed their work ranging from welded sculptures to tie-dyed shirts. As part of our new initiative to partner with other local community groups, North Country

Animal League brought a four-legged friend, named Mozart, who ended up getting adopted!

Throughout the year, we partner with local favorites, such as Ryan Sweezy, Billy Wylder, and many more that perform as the openers to our Unplugged Series. Homegrown is all about celebrating the amazing, fruitful, and incredible talent that Vermont has right in its own backyard. But it's also more than that. It allows for you, the audience, to come together, to find a new favorite artist to follow, and know that your presence directly supports your local arts community.

See you on stage this summer!
